Unity Meet At Kremlin

Hungarian Session; China Is Still Out

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev met amid smiles with Hungarian Communist boss Janos Kadar in a Kremlin unity session today, while Chinese and Soviet negotiators ground through another day of grim discussions aimed at finding some solution to their ideological split.

The talks with the Chinese ended with no indication whether they would resume Thursday or whether delegates would take another consultation recess.

Board Spurs Overcrowded School Plan

Several Ideas Advanced As Problem Solution

The problem of overcrowding at Heber U. Hunt Elementary School was one of the main topics of discussion at the regular meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday night.

The board, after studying several possible methods of relieving this situation, approved a method of assignment as a temporary solution.

The assignment method will not affect pupils living within the city limits, nor the pupils that attended Heber Hunt School last school year.

The assignment method will affect any new pupils moving into Mississ. Manor, which lies in the school district, but outside of the city limits.

Four points are considered in the assignment method.

Any pupil who attended Heber Hunt School last year will be allowed to attend the same school this year.

All new pupils living in Mississ. Manor must apply for assignment to a school. This assignment will be done by the Superintendent of Schools, Dr. T. J. Norris.

Limit Pupils

An arbitrary limit of 32 pupils in grades 1, 2 and 3, and an arbitrary limit of 38 pupils in grades 4, 5, 6 and 7, has been set for purposes of assignment.

All children living within the city limits of Sedalia will automatically attend the school in their own school district.

Dr. Norris explained that in his assignment of the new Mississ. Manor pupils, he will not break up families. For instance, if there are children in two or three different grades, they will be assigned to attend a school in which there is room in the proper class for all of the children.

In arriving at the assignment method of temporarily solving the problem at Heber Hunt, Dr. Norris offered the following explanation:

Last September when the school

Negro Running For Council In Florida

OCALA, Fla. (AP) — A Negro carpenter, Pinckney Woodberry, will be a runoff candidate for City Council July 19.

Woodberry ran second among five candidates Tuesday with 579 votes. L.G. Thomas, a businessman, led the field with 771 and Mrs. Marge Thompson, a clubwoman, was third with 549.

It was the first time in 60 years a Negro had sought an Ocala city office post.

guilty recently of using stolen Canadian bonds as collateral for loans. Racket figure, Alex "Shondor" Birns, right, is being sought in connection with the case. (NEA Telephoto)

The temperature Wednesday was 65 at 7 a.m. and 80 at 1 p.m. Low Tuesday night was 57.

Unless Bonds Are Passed

‘Gloom’ Hinged To Sewer Issue

A dire situation of unemployment, no new industries, a failing economy and a sad day in general was forecast by Mayor L. L. Studer in a letter Tuesday afternoon, unless Sedalia passes a sewer bond issue planned for this Fall.

The letter apparently stemmed from the closed meeting Monday night, between the mayor, council, representatives from a firm of consulting engineers, the water pollution board and the city engineer.

At this closed meeting, the mayor said he was authorized by the council to appoint a 14-member committee to spearhead a drive to pass the sewer bond issue, with the names of the committee members included in the following news hand-out from the mayor's office:

"There is no doubt the three sewage Disposal Plants in Se-

Rail Strike Is Stalled

Kennedy Plan Stalls Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy announced that there will be no nationwide rail strike at midnight.

The nation's railroads and their operating unions accepted a presidential proposal for a delay until July 29 in the nationwide rail strike which had been threatened by a dispute over work rules.

Kennedy personally announced the agreement to postpone the walkout in a special appearance on television.

Kennedy, after meeting with both parties late Wednesday, said they would accept the good offices of a special board made up of six members of his labor-management advisory committee.

The board will make a "comprehensive review" of the work rules change dispute, Kennedy said, and send a report to Congress on July 22 along with presidential recommendations for any legislation needed to resolve the four-year-old case.

In the meantime, the railroads will withhold action to put into effect new work rules which they say are needed to eliminate unnecessary jobs, and the unions in turn will call off the strike which they said would follow such company action.

Kennedy said in making his announcement that he would request no further strike.

Kennedy appeared very briefly before reporters and television cameras after the White House meeting, to outline his plan. He concluded simply:

"The railroads and the unions have accepted this proposal and there will be no strike this evening."

School Opens August 30 In Sedalia

Year's Schedule Is Approved By Education Board

The Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday night released the schedule for the next school year.

Teachers' workshop will be held Aug. 27. Students will attend Aug. 30 to receive school assignments, supplies, etc. Classes will start Sept. 3. School will be dismissed Nov. 28-29 for Thanksgiving holiday. Schools will be dismissed Dec. 20 for Christmas holidays. School will resume Jan. 2. Classes will be dismissed Jan. 23-24 for parent-teachers conference, May 22, school ends. May 26, grade cards will be issued.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. T. J. Norris at the meeting read several letters concerning approximately 30 construction faults that have appeared in the Physical Education and Arts Building and in Heber U. Hunt School, and noted that considerably difficulty has been encountered in attempting to have the faults corrected.

The board voted to engage William F. Brown as attorney in any further negotiations toward having the corrections made.

Carl Schrader appeared before the board and noted that a piano in the SCHS auditorium cost a considerable amount of money originally, but in recent years has been allowed to deteriorate. He requested measures be taken to have the piano repaired and kept in good condition. The board took the matter under study.

The board opened bids and voted to purchase two pianos, one for the music room and another for classes.

Ben Townsend, local school bus operator, appeared on request of the board to discuss possible prices for three school busses the board has on hand, and to discuss costs of transporting teams to football games and other school activities.

The board did not make a decision.

New Light On Meeting By Council

Some additional business, not reported to the press, was conducted in the meeting of the mayor and City Council of Sedalia in the seclusion of the mayor's office Monday night, sources indicated today.

Mayor L. L. Studer told The Democrat - Capital Monday the meeting was called on request of the engineering firm of Burns & McDonnell to discuss a report on the Sedalia sewer situation.

Tuesday morning, however, it was disclosed that the engineering firm did request the closed hearing on the sewer situation, but at the meeting the mayor and council conducted other business—the appointment of a bi-racial committee, and agreed on the appointment of a committee to spearhead a sewer bond drive.

It was learned Wednesday that other business was apparently conducted Tuesday afternoon, the mayor told The Democrat - Capital that the council had discussed

Jobless Pay Dips 34% Over May

Sharp Drop In Line With Other Towns

Unemployment insurance benefit payments to jobless residents of the four-county area served by the Sedalia branch office of the state Division of Employment Security declined 34 per cent during June compared to the previous month of May.

The dip was in line with a sharp statewide decrease from the preceding month and a slight drop from June a year ago.

Russell M. Carr, manager of the Sedalia office which serves Pettis, Johnson, Morgan and Benton counties, said benefits paid in June totaled $28,175.60 compared to $42,942.35 during May.

Initial claims, often an index to new unemployment, Carr said, totaled 476 during June in the four-county area, up 48.5 per cent compared to May, 1963, and up 19.5 per cent compared to June, 1962.

"The increase was primarily due to curtailment of production in manufacturing because of plant vacations," Carr said.

Weekly claims totaled 1,499 during this same period, down 16 per cent compared to May, 1963, and up 24 per cent compared to June, 1962.

New applications for employment in June increased 1.4 per cent compared to May, non-agricultural job openings decreased 36 per cent and non-agricultural placements decreased 30.7 per cent. The decrease in both job openings and placements was also due to curtailment in hiring because of plant vacations, Carr pointed out.

Farm job openings received at the Sedalia office during June showed an increase of 27 per cent compared to May. A number of

Fines Defined By Municipal Court Judge

Judge U. L. Howerton said today he has received a number of inquiries concerning the fines assessed in Police Court for city auto license sticker violations.

Howerton explained the fine for failure to purchase or display a city auto license is $10.

The court, however, grants a stay of $5 when an individual has purchased the sticker, but has failed to display it properly upon the windshield of the motor vehicle.

The board did not make a decision.

Pope Receives First South Korean Visitor

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI received Foreign Minister Kim Yong-Shik of South Korea at a private audience today. It was the first papal audience for a member of a South Korean government.

The difference, Howerton explained, lies in the wording of the two charges made by police. Failure to purchase a sticker costs $10, but failure to display it in instances where the sticker has been obtained gives the violator a concession on $5 of the fine — providing the sticker is displayed properly.

The same question arises each year when police begin ticketing autos for city sticker violations. Deadline this year for obtaining a sticker was June 15.

The new meeting with newsmen will cover domestic and international affairs.

15-Year-Old Boy Drowns In Creek

A 15-year-old Cole Camp High School sophomore drowned while his mother helplessly watched about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday after he slipped off a creek bank near Fairfield, Mo.

The body of Jerry Dean Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Elton Hogan, Cole Camp, was recovered about 4 p.m. According to the boy's uncle, Clifford Bell, Warrensburg, the boy was a member of a fishing party made up of Bell and the boy's parents.

Bell said he and the boy's father were in a boat when the accident occurred. The boy's mother, who couldn't swim either, was just out of his mother's reach. Bell said he went to Fairfield for help when the boy couldn't be reached.

Young Hogan was born in Marshall, Feb. 22, 1948, son of Oliver Eldon Hogan, and Elverna Elizabeth Viets Hogan.

He had lived in Cole Camp for 13 years and was president of the

Landers
Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My heart aches for the young boy who wrote and said he was a chronic liar and didn't know how to stop. The poor lad said he never told lies that would hurt anybody. He just dreamed up stories to make himself seem more important or to make his hum-drum life seem more glamorous.

It was like that when I was a youngster and I took my problem to a wonderful clergyman. He "cured" me. Perhaps the same technique will work for him. Here it is:

When you hear yourself weaving one of those fabulous yarns bring the story to an abrupt end with a ridiculous phrase such as this: "And then I shot myself and died." Smile and add, "Beat that one if you can."

This is an easy way of saying, "It was all in fun and I didn't mean it." —EX-PREVARICATOR

Dear Ex: Thank you for the suggestion. It sounds workable and I hope the boy tries it.

Dear Ann Landers: Erma is a dear friend of whom I am extremely fond. The standing joke about her in our crowd is that she was an 11-month baby and has been late ever since.

Erma lives near me. She does not drive but I do. So that means I pick her up several times a week. She's one of those disorganized people who, no matter how far ahead she plans, she can't seem to get herself together on time. I have sat out in front of her house for as long as 25 minutes chewing my fingernails. Each time I tell myself I am never going to pick her up again. But she is such a lovely person I can't bring myself to do it.

Last week we arrived at a funeral 20 minutes late. This week we missed the door prize drawings at the Ladies Aid. I don't remember the last time I heard a meeting called to order. I discussed the problem with my husband last night. He said, "This is one for Ann Landers. I agree with him. Can you help?" — NO NAILS NANCY

Dear No Nails: Erma is not going to change unless she has to. And she doesn't have to do long as you continue to sit out in front and wait for her.

The day you tell her that you won't stop if she isn't out in front —then DO it — that will be the day when Erma pulls up her socks and gets herself ready on time. Until then — wear mittens.

Dear Ann Landers: I once read in your column that you thought it was perfectly all right for people to take home from restaurants the food they were unable to eat at the table. What do you think of the following?

We attended a beautiful wedding last week. The woman next to us had a large headed handbag almost the size of a shopping bag. After the dinner was served she wrapped the rolls and put them in her handbag. She then got herself four pieces of wedding cake, wrapped them in paper napkins and put them in the bag.

for her to ask the hostess if she might take an extra piece of wedding cake or two for her children, but it was downright boorish to swarm all over the rolls, nuts and candy.

X-15 May Set New Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—"I'm ready when the plane's ready."

That's X-15 pilot Joseph A. Walker talking, looking ahead to next week when he will take the stubby-winged rocket ship up for a flight that could set a new world altitude record of more than 60 miles.

Walker, smiling and confident, made the remark Tuesday after a routine hop to more than 40 miles to test device that measures air flow across the black skin of his unique space dart.

"This airplane has had six flights on the same engine," Walker said. "If they get it re-worked in time, we'll be all set to go Tuesday."

Walker's goal Tuesday will be "about 310,000 feet" but U.S. Space Agency officials say no one will be surprised if he tops the current record of 314,750 feet set a year ago by Air Force Maj. Robert White.

Whether Walker breaks the record Tuesday or not, he will try the following week for 350,000 feet—possibly the highest the X-15 can go with safety.

owns on 14th Street across from the hospital. A committee comprised of John Van Dyne, Tom Cloney, William Schien, and Leon Hall, all members of the Children's Therapy Center board of directors, was appointed by William C. Hopkins, president of the center's board. This committee will work with Walker and Miss Janet Vavra, newly appointed occupational therapist at the center, in formulating plans to get the sheltered workshop organized.

It was learned at the meeting that there are a minimum of eight handicapped young adults who have attended the center and are now eligible and capable of being employed in a workshop. It will be up to the center's board and other members of the Sedalia community to provide various type of mechanical or manual projects for these handicapped youngsters to work on. It was suggested that at the workshop might handle such things as mail stuffing for firms, toy making, leather craft, needle work, or other activities which would offer remuneration for the young people.

Conceivably, the workshop could develop into one type of small industry revolving around one specific operation. Any business firm or individual, who would have available some type of group or individual work, which could be handled in the workshop, are being encouraged to contact the Children's Therapy Center and make it known.

At the meeting Monday night, two awards were presented to active members of the center's board. Mrs. Lucille White, who has been treasurer for several years, was presented a resolution plaque commending her for her devoted services to the center. Dr. James C. Alexander, immediate past president, made the presentation. President Hopkins in turn presented Dr. Alexander a desk trophy for his outstanding achievement the past two years as president.

The board voted to purchase two cellos from the Bowhart Music Co. for a low bid of $205. The Dorn-Cloney Laundry Co. was the low bidder on cleaning band uniforms, for $95.50. The Stanberry Uniform Co. was the only firm submitting a bid on 60 new band uniforms for the Junior Hi Band, for $3,717. The board approved the bid, however, C. W. Hurt abstained from voting, indicating he did not feel the awarding of a contract is proper when only one bid is made. Sedalia Steel & Wire was the low bidder on wall-type water coolers, with a bid of $1,150 for the coolers indicated in the bid invitation.

As no new car dealer offered to furnish the car for driver training next school year, a verbal offer by Thompson-Greer was accepted.

The board agreed to purchase some chairs and tables from the Chapman-Young Supply Co., and some drafting tables from the Bowls School Supply Co. Bids were not solicited because a particular type of furniture was needed to match furniture already in the rooms involved.

Leo Gerke was considered the low bidder on curb and gutter work and construction of walks at Heber U. Hunt School. Cost will be about $3,167. Dr. Norris was authorized to negotiate with the C. C. Cover Construction Co. for final grading and filling of the Heber U. Hunt playgrounds, as soon as the curbing and guttering is completed.

At 12:45 p.m. Tuesday, the Pettis County Fire Department was called to a grass fire at Griessman Road and the MKT railroad tracks. No damage was reported.

A passing motorist noticed a fire at old Highway 50 and the Missouri Pacific tracks at 1:55 p.m. Tuesday and turned in the alarm to the Pettis County Fire Department. About one acre belonging to Elmer Mewes, Route 3, was burned off. Pump buckets and one booster line were used to extinguish the fire.

About 12 acres were burned off on the Martin Breenan farm near Nelson Tuesday afternoon. Pettis County firemen, called at 3 p.m., used one booster line to put out the blaze, which started from undetermined causes.

"The Mayor and members of the City Council are so very grateful to the members of the sewer bond citizens committee who have graciously consented to devote their time and efforts so unselfishly because of their deep concern in a greater and better community."

Of particular interest to Sedilians are the results of tests begun three years ago to determine the extent of industrial sewage output, and recommendations for the reduction of industrial wastes entering the Sedalia sewage system.

The results of these tests, and the recommendations for industrial waste treatment, have not been revealed. The report is said to be 33 pages in length.

The New York World's Fair Strike Will Be Bigger and Better Delayed

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP)—A quarter century after tearing down the Trylon and Perisphere, New York is building another fair—bigger, better and aimed at pulling even more visitors into the metropolis.

Some 25 million persons showed up for the first year of the 1939 fair. This time fair builders hope for 40 million the first year, 1964.

Those returning for the first time since the Aquacade closed will find little old New York changed. There will be nostalgia for some. But there will be fascination for all, especially youngsters who never before have seen the stone and brick canyons of New York.

Travelers arriving by air for the 1939 fair landed at Newark Airport in New Jersey. Now LaGuardia and Idlewild airports in New York City handle more than 13 million passengers a year.

From the air, visitors will see Manhattan as a velvet cloth studded with gems of skyscrapers construction, divided by its streets into tiny rectangles of mass and color.

Some old landmarks have changed. The Aquarium that used to be on the tip of Manhattan has been moved to Coney Island.

The George Washington Bridge has a new lower deck.

The Empire State Building still rises majestically 102 stories above Fifth Avenue. But a 222-foot television tower has been erected atop it. Among outstanding new skyscrapers is the Pan Am Building, towering 59 stories over Grand Central Terminal.

The city's population hasn't changed much—it was 7½ million in 1939 and it's about 8 million now. But the area around the fair site in Queens has been built up beyond imagination in the past 25 years. The new fair is in Flushing Meadows, as was the old one, but all the buildings save one will be new.

Across the street from the fair, in the old World's Fair parking lot, a municipal sports stadium is being built. Ebbets Field in Brooklyn is gone, and the Polo Grounds in Manhattan soon will be abandoned. The Giants and Dodgers have moved west, and the imposing Yankees share baseball interest here with the improbable Mets.

The elevateds on Third and Sixth avenues have been removed. New construction has erased the avenues' drabness and turned them into imposing thoroughfares. Park Avenue, once a sedate citadel of high rent apartments, now is mainly an avenue of hotels and bright new business structures.

The subway fare was five cents in 1939. Now it's 15 cents and only tokens fit the turnstiles. Trolleys have vanished. But the Staten Island ferry still is five cents a ride, unfolding in its wake the spectacular lower New York skyline.

The Statue of Liberty still dominates the harbor, and Gen. Ulysses S. Grant still sleeps in his tomb above Riverside Drive.

The Bronx Zoo is delighting a new generation of youngsters, and Central Park still draws young lovers to its secluded benches and shady paths—although not after dark.

The world's largest bus terminal is at Eighth Avenue and 41st Street, while across town the United Nations headquarters dominates the area at 42nd Street and the East River.

The Plaza Hotel still is the venerable dowager of Fifth Avenue, and the Waldorf-Astoria yet graces Park Avenue as a symbol of luxury. But there are new rivals—the Americana and the New York Hilton on the West Side, the Summit and the Regency on the East Side.

There hasn't been a new theater built in Manhattan in 25 years, and some old ones are gone. But seven nights a week and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons Broadway stages come alive with make-believe magic.

Times Square still blazes each dusk into carnival-like glory. Fifty-Second Street, though, the swingingest street Manhattan ever knew, is the site of business houses or restaurants. The garish, giddy clubs are gone.

Great ocean liners still stand out to sea from Hudson River piers, and on a misty night their throaty whistles sound a seductive invitation to high adventure.

Greenwich Village is not what it was in 1939—many of its authentic characters have moved east to cheaper quarters, routed by new apartment buildings. But on a quiet Sunday, Washington Square remains a fragment of the past.

Chinatown still draws sightseeing buses; bums still sprawl in drunken forgetfulness in Bowery doorways.

There aren't many big night clubs left in New York. But there are hotel supper clubs that boast the finest in entertainment, plus hundreds of restaurants where food is prepared after the fashion of many lands and most races. When the sun goes down, skyscraper lights come on, neon bloom and midtown Manhattan becomes a ball of flame and movement, sight and sound.

Toward dawn, the noises of the city echo, then die, and silence at last dominates the night.

As the sun's first shafts brighten the sky, the utter hush is shattered by a crescendo of sound as Manhattan's millions begin a new day.

In many ways, then, New York is a different town than it was in 1939. But in many ways also, New York remains mad, magnificent and magical.

GOP Fund Aimed At Kennedy 'Ouster'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee hopes to raise more than a million dollars this year in $10 contributions toward a "Kennedy retirement fund."

That is a fund to retire the Kennedys from office.

One of the circulars it is sending throughout the country shows three rocking chairs, labeled "His," "Bobby's" and "Teddy's."

The accompanying text, asking contributions, says:

"A rocker gives a fellow the illusion of going somewhere, when he's really sitting still. (If you rock hard enough, it'll back up on you.)

"That's the way it is with the country today. We may be moving (back and forth, sideways, up and down) but it doesn't exactly appear to be forward."

Third Typhoon Heads For Island of Guam

GUAM (AP)—The third typhoon in eight months moved toward Guam Tuesday night with winds of 120 knots at the center.

The Guam governor's office said Typhoon Wenly was expected to pass just north of the island.

Asst. Gov. Ed Englewood said, "If the typhoon passes off to the north we will get winds of only 70 to 80 knots. But if it veers south, we will get the full blast of 120 knots."

Shelters were opened around the 32-mile-long island and many of the 67,000 residents moved in.

Many seeking shelter have been living in temporary housing since their homes were destroyed by Typhoon Karen in November and Typhoon Olive in April.

Worry and Overwork Are Hard On Teeth

CHICAGO (AP)—Worry and overwork may be bad for your teeth, an Australian dentist reports.

In an article Dental Abstracts Dr. Philip R.N. Sutton, Melbourne, said a survey of 169 patients with rampant dental decay showed 96 per cent had suffered recent severe mental stress over illness in the family, business, financial or housing problems, or worry about their jobs.

Dr. Sutton's study covered 661 patients. Only two per cent of those free of acute tooth decay reported worry over personal problems.

to work as technical employees of the state.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled June 10 that the seizure law was unconstitutional.

The transit company is the major means of public transportation in the metropolitan area, carrying about 100,000 passengers on week days.

The new strike deadline is 12:01 a.m. (CST) Thursday.

Harry O'Connell, federal mediator, recessed the bargaining session after Hargus agreed to the 24-hour delay. O'Connell planned to confer with both sides separately this morning and resume the joint negotiations.

Hargus said Tuesday's long negotiations were devoted to discussion of a package deal. In announcing postponement of the strike, he said:

"We are now told the company has had an opportunity to convey that to the board of directors for their consideration."

EDITORIALS*One More 'Routine' Entry

The predictable holiday slaughter and mayhem on the nation's streets and highways, having happened again with the usual frightening inevitability, will go into the record books as one more "routine" entry.

The prospect is that these periodic human disasters, and the hardly less shattering daily death tolls which roll up between holidays, will get worse as traffic volume mounts steadily across the country.

And the blunt truth is that, for all their professions of good intent, most traffic authorities fall badly short of serious effort to cope with the traffic safety problem.

The problem breaks down into three elements—the road, the car and the driver.

In the matter of roads, we are getting more and more super-thoroughfares basically designed for heavy traffic and incorporating the best principles of safety engineering.

But some of these very new roads are not well engineered. The complexities built in at certain "interchanges" confound even the most sensible driver. Turnoff lanes are inadequately banked, deceleration lanes sometimes omitted or made too short.

In all too many areas, highway authorities really never have solved the sign problem. They just don't know where to put them. More often than not, they are placed at points hundreds of feet from the spots where driver decisions to turn or not to turn should be made.

As for cars, most states understand the need to require periodic checks to assure their good condition. More and more are demanding seat belts in all new cars sold. Motor companies generally are co-operative in designing their product more and more for safety.

The driver is the big focus of failure. A high percentage of accidents, fatal and otherwise, are adjudged due either to improper driver control or inadequate attention to driving.

It is in this realm of "pilot error" that traffic authorities, lacking proper spur from the people themselves, appear in poorest light.

The driver is the "operator" of the vehicle, so his license states. Yet it is a fact that many "drivers" do little more these days than accompany the cars they ride in.

Their hands and arms are everywhere but on the wheel. They talk, they shift about, they turn their heads away from the road. With laughable understatement, police in one big city protested mildly against drivers who make a "lovers' lane" out of main roads—while moving at speeds up to 50 or 60.

By any fair test all this constitutes reckless driving. Until it is uniformly so defined, and heavily penalized for what it is—the chief menace to safe driving—we can treat with scorn the empty blather from official sources about "driving safely." The comings and goings of most traffic police are mere show-window stuff.

If safer driving really is desired, the means of urging it seriously through official action are surely at hand. So far nobody has shown much interest in getting down to cases. The death score is the proof.

Weinrich, of Sedalia, was admitted as a new member, making the Pettis county association a one hundred per cent organization.

Washington Merry-Go-Round*Russia and China Territorial Troubles

Editor's Note: Probably no American newspaperman has acquired such a background regarding the debate between China and Russia as Drew Pearson. As early as 1925, Pearson went to China and reported on the first Soviet attempts to communize China. Earlier, in 1922, he visited Siberia. He has also crossed the Gobi to Mongolia, also reached the edge of Tibet, and more recently has interviewed most of the top leaders of the Communist world. Today Pearson begins a series of columns on the battle between the giants of communism and what it means to the American people.)

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—There are two basic issues in dispute between the two giants of communism, the first being territory and the tremendous population bulge of Red China; the second being whether the Communist world can co-exist beside the capitalist world and still survive.

The second difference has been so headlined that the public is inclined to forget the first, but it remains a fact that Russia under the Czar snatched about 5,000,000 square miles of Chinese territory, and the Chinese of late have been making noises about wanting it back.

I have traveled up the Amur river through the area which the Czar's army snatched. It is flat, rich, largely uncultivated and resembles the rolling prairies of Montana. It is traversed by one of the longest rivers in the world, the Amur, up which I sailed for a week before coming to one of the central cities of the Siberian maritime provinces, Khabarovsk, which used to be Chinese.

These maritime provinces, all formerly Chinese, extend down the coast of Siberia from the mouth of the Amur river to Manchuria and west as far as Lake Baikal. According to the latest Soviet census, they have a population of 8,700,000. But with the intensive cultivation and low standard of living of the Chinese, they could probably support ten times as much.

At any rate, the Chinese government last winter nudged Moscow regarding this vast area and made it clear that it deserved the right to reopen previous treaties and get the territory back.

Perhaps anticipating this, Khrushchev has been driving for more Russian migration in the area. When I talked to him on the shores of the Black Sea, he told me in some detail how he had overcome Molotov's skepticism about settling Eastern Siberia.

"Let the tractor drivers sleep beside their machines like troops in the field," he told Molotov when the latter asked how the farm pioneers of Siberia were going to be housed.

At any rate, this part of northeast Siberia, plus restless Sinkiang province where nomad tribes roam back and forth across the border, have caused serious friction between the two giants of the Communist world.

Independent Mongolia

Another cause of smoldering friction is Mongolia, a semi desert area claimed by the Chinese for several thousand years but now

The World Today*Insight Into Railroad-Union Dispute

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—A few figures and a third pair of eyes give an insight into the change in the railroad industry and into the railroad-union dispute which stems directly from that change.

The railroads argue that in by-gone days, when they depended mostly on steam locomotives with their coal-stoked furnaces, they needed firemen far more than now when almost all trains are hauled by oil-burning diesel engines.

In 1940 there were about 40,000 steam locomotives but only about 800 diesel engines. Now there are 29,000 diesel engine units but only 112 steam locomotives.

Therefore, the railroads say, being forced to keep about 40,000 firemen on their payrolls to ride the diesels is strictly featherbedding. They say they could save $600 million a year by dropping the 40,000 firemen. Unions say the jobs are needed for safe operation of the trains.

There's a distinction between the 40,000 firemen in diesels hauling freight cars and another 6,000 firemen riding diesels which haul passenger cars. The difference is a third pair of eyes.

On the freight diesel two men ride up front with the engineer: the brakeman and the fireman. The engineer, riding on the right, looks out for everything ahead on his side.

One of the other two men can watch on the left side. That's two pairs of eyes watching. The railroads say there is no need for a third pair—meaning a fireman—because the brakeman can watch on the left side.

But on a diesel hauling passenger cars, only the engineer and firemen ride up front.

A 15-man commission appointed by President Eisenhower to dig into this whole railroad-union dispute—for the problem involved much more than firemen—reported to President Kennedy in 1962.

It agreed firemen on freight diesels aren't needed but said firemen on the passenger diesels should be kept. The railroads accepted that. But the commission said far more than this.

It said: The rules and agreements set up long ago by the unions and the railroads are out of date because of modern technology which means, among other things, increased mechanization like diesels.

Edson in Washington*GOP Cry: 'Make America Safe for Mrs. Murphy'

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — The best slogan which the Republicans have come up with yet to sweep them back into the White House in 1964 is: MAKE AMERICA SAFE FOR MRS. MURPHY.

Such a theme might even split the Irish vote—in America, that is—away from the Kennedys.

This Mrs. Murphy, of course, is an imaginary character in no way related to the Mrs. Margaretta (Happy) Murphy who in real life married Gov. Nelson Rockefeller after both divorced their former mates.

Business complains about this and all the keeping of records it entails. Then business comes to Washington and in the name of supporting a "Fair Trade Law" backs a bill that would require Mrs. Murphy to sell brand name goods at factory fixed prices, in complete contradiction of a free market.

The new regulations which Internal Revenue Service has just issued on reporting business travel and entertainment expenses as income tax deductions offer another example. They affect the Mr. Murphys more than the Mrs. Murphys. They hit not only big shot executive types but also a lot of smaller fry who are salesmen and operators of their own businesses.

Internal Revenue Service has now tried to interpret a tough law intended to crack down on expense account chiselers so as to give the Murphys with legitimate expenses a fair break.

But in reporting these expenses the Murphys practically have to keep a diary of everything they do and how much it cost, as evidence of their deductions. If Mrs. Murphy goes along with Mr. Murphy on a business trip and her expenses for travel and entertainment can be legitimately charged off, records of that must be kept, too.

The good old days when the Murphys who ran Mom and Pop establishments just as they pleased are going, going, and almost gone forever.

The Doctor's Mailbag*New Chemical Aids Those With Chronic Canker Sores

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M. D.

Q — My husband gets canker sores in his mouth. He has used many treatments but they always come back and are hard to get rid of. What causes them and is there any cure?

A — Canker sores are usually caused by a virus. But in some persons a food allergy appears to be the cause. Recurrences are the rule rather than the exception.

A new chemical, 5-iododeoxyuridine, has been found to cure the disease. A solution of the drug is painted on the sore or it is applied in an ointment. Healing occurs in 1 to 5 days instead of the usual 2 or 3 weeks. Furthermore recurrences are apparently checked although the drug has not been used long enough to be sure of this. The drug is not yet on the market but it can be obtained from Smith, Kline and French by your doctor.

Q — My doctor says I have nasal polyps which must be removed. Is this a serious operation?

A — Although all operations are serious, the removal of nasal polyps is relatively simple. Since such polyps are often caused by an allergy you should have this angle investigated. If allergy is the cause and it is not treated, the polyps will return after they have been removed. If they are interfering with your breathing they should, of course, be cut out.

Q — Will the prolonged use of nicotinic acid have any side effects? It was prescribed for me.

A — If this does not work, emotional factors must be sought because some girls build up enormous tensions over this natural function. If this is the cause, the sympathetic guidance of a doctor trained in treating emotional difficulties should be consulted. In extreme cases the sympathetic nerve roots coming out of the lower segments of the spinal cord have been cut, but such extreme measures are rarely advisable.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

May Have Passed NATO Defense Plans

PARIS (AP)—Information that arrested Swedish Col. Stig Wennerstroem may have passed on to the Russians could lead NATO military planners to recast some of their plans for defense in the north, informants here indicated today.

But there was no public sign of consternation in North Atlantic Treaty Organization circles over the sensational Wennerstroem spy case.

Supreme Allied Headquarters for Europe and NATO political headquarters in Paris decline any official comment on the Wennerstroem affair.

But He Had Some Help

Mays Is Star In All-Star

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—It's a good thing Willie Mays was there.

Willie was not the whole show. He had help in leading the National League to a 5-3 all-star victory over the American League Tuesday.

But without the brilliant San Francisco center fielder, the 34th All-Star show would have been a bust.

First of all, only 44,160 paying customers attended, filling about half of the huge Municipal Stadium. The players and club owners were keenly disappointed. Conservative estimates had been for between 60,000 and 70,000.

The customers also were disappointed but for another reason. They had paid $6 and $8 a ticket to see the greatest National League stars, some of them for the first time. But they never got to see Sandy Koufax, the senior circuit's best pitcher; Warren Spahn, who keeps on defying age and enemy batters with reckless abandon; and Juan Marichal, San Francisco's superb young right-handed star who recently defeated Spahn in a spectacular 16-inning 1-0 duel.

What they saw was a lackluster game with routine plays, fair pitching, mediocre fielding and somewhat less than robust hitting. The biggest hit was a double by the American league's Albie Pearson, the littlest All-Star of them all.

The National League scored the tie-breaking run without the aid of a hit, the run crossing the plate when New York Yankee Joe Pepitone chose to make an unassisted out at first instead of throwing to the plate.

The National League managed only six hits, and four of those were scratchy. The American League had 11 hits but also nine strikeouts and Bobby Richardson, another Yankee, had the misfortune to hit into two double plays. The little second baseman, usually sure-handed missed a throw by third baseman Frank Malzone which led to a run.

The only outstanding defensive play was Tommy Davis' fine throw from medium left field to double Nellie Fox at the plate. It was a good throw but the fans are still wondering why it took Fox so long to spring 90 feet from third base. He was caught standing up.

"Nellie got a bad start," third base coach Johnny Pesky explained later.

The biggest noise came when

Merchants To Meet 'Red Birds'

The strong Jefferson City "Red Birds" are pitted against the semi-pro Sedalia Merchants in a game slated for 8 p.m. Thursday night at the Liberty Park baseball diamond.

The Merchants have whipped Jefferson City once, 3-2, at Jefferson City, but the locals went under to the Red Birds 8-5 in their last game at Liberty Park. This will be the rubber game the two teams will be fighting to get.

Starting on the mound for the locals will be big Henry Mason, with Bill Hill to assume the catching chores. Bill will pitch for Jefferson City, with Leonard or Scott slated to catch.

This will be the Merchants' last home game for more than a week. The next home game will be July 20 against Whitteman WAFB. Three days later the state semi-pro baseball tournament will begin locally. The Merchants last year's state champs, will be fighting for a repeat performance.

Ice, Rotary Cop Majors Wins in LL

Taking Tuesday's Little League majors wins were Ice and Rotary.

The opener at Liberty Park in the majors saw Ice defeat Lions 9-5. Larry Brownfield was the winner for Ice, with Pat Robinson taking the pitching loss for Lions. David Bass, the first baseman for Ice, slammed a home run in that game.

Rotary edged Moose 12-11 in the second game in the big league. Mark Wanserski was the winning pitcher, with Earl Sims hit into four outs in two times at bat. Only Jim Bouton, the young pitcher, did well. He hurled one perfect inning.

But the crowd loved Mays. And Willie earned every bit of their adoration.

He got only one hit, a sharp run-scoring single. But he scored twice, drove in two runs, stole two bases and, of course, made the best catch, even if it didn't match some of his more spectacular catches.

That was in the eighth inning when the "Say, Hey Kid" ambled to the center field fence, 380 feet, to haul in Pepitone's fly. Willie banged his right toe against the wire fence, limped in pain for several seconds, then leisurely jogged to the dugout.

"Now, I didn't hurt myself," he said later. "Not even a bruise. I can't afford to hurt myself. I gotta play tomorrow. I gotta play every day."

It was Willie who scored the first run, after drawing a second-inning walk and stealing second against right-hander Ken McBride. It was Willie who broke a 1-1 tie with a sharp third-inning single and it was Willie who broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth with a run-scoring infield grounder.

"I play the same way all the time," he said when asked how he most always comes up with a key hit or a key play in an important game.

"I always get lucky, especially in an All-Star game."

"Lucky" Willie is batting .414 in 14 All-Star games. He is tied with Stan Musial for most hits, with 20, has stolen the most bases, 5, and scored the most runs, 15.

"I don't care where you are. Mays always helps you," said San Francisco manager Alvin Dark, who piloted the National Leaguers to their fifth victory in the last seven games, with one ending in a tie. The National now trails over-all, 17-16-1.

Dark employed 18 players while Houk manipulated 21 of his 25 men. Each used five pitchers. Larry Jackson, who succeeded starter Jim O'Toole, was hit the hardest, but was credited with the victory. Jim Bunning, who took over for starter McBride in the fourth, yielded one unearned run in two innings but was charged with the loss. His streak was broken after nine consecutive scoreless innings in All-Star competition.

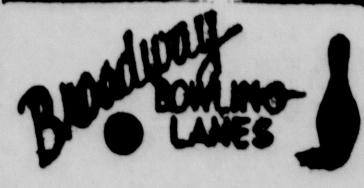

The sharp characters who figured up the race odds at the tracks, before pari-mutuel machines were used, were a lot smarter and faster than any of the teachers we ever knew.

Any guy who could figure out a Dutch book, and get enough scratch together to beat it has to rate as a mathematical genius in our book.

A Dutch book was an overloaded listing of the odds on a race. Instead of coming to 100 per cent it would come to say 90 or 95 per cent. By betting certain amounts of money on each horse in the race you had to make money. You had to be quick to spot these slight miscalculations and quicker even to get your money down to make these bets.

"Offhand, I can think of several pitchers in our league who are just as fast, if not faster," said Mays. "Drysdale, Koufax, Mahaffey, for example."

"Oh, yeah," scoffed Manager Ralph Houk of the American League. "I'll bet they're glad he's not in their league."

Palmer Leads Field of 120 In Open Play

ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Supremely fit and confident, Arnold Palmer led a field of 120 into the first round of the 72-hole British Open golf championship today and again he was the man to beat.

Determined to win his third straight British title, the Latrobe,

Pa. professional polished his game to almost perfect pitch in practice and brought it to a culminating four under par 66 Tuesday.

That performance simply cemented his role as 2 to 1 favorite. "I like it here and I am playing well," said Palmer in the understatement of the week.

His principal rivals, Jack Nicklaus, Phil Rodgers and South Africa's Gary Player, each conceded that Palmer has never hit the ball better than right now.

"His driving is remarkable," Rodgers said.

Palmer said he concentrated especially on driving for this exacting 6,757-yard par 70 seaside links.

He rebuilt his driver over the weekend, replateing and re-winding with a craftsmanship that fascinated the local pro shop.

The effort paid off. Palmer conquered high winds on the long and treacherous back nine while

Nicklaus with his high, soaring shots missed 10 fairways in his final practice round. The U.S. Masters' champion, however, still was a second favorite at 5 to 1.

"I've never seen Arnold hit tee shots better," said Nicklaus in open candor, "and you know how he can putt."

Palmer was a midday starter, teeing off with 24-year-old John

Sharky, an up and coming English professional.

Nicklaus followed later, playing with Ross Whitehead of England.

Rodgers went off with Denis Hutchinson of South Africa.

Concentration Key to a Win For Patterson

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Concentration can give Floyd Patterson a victory in his rematch with heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, veteran fight handler Cus D'Amato says.

D'Amato, who guided Patterson in most of his fights, thinks the challenger will turn the tables on Liston here July 22 and regain the title.

"Patterson was a distracted fighter when Liston kayed him last September," D'Amato said. "He made one fundamental mistake. Instead of hitting and getting out of there, and instead of staying in close after he went in for the in-fighting, Floyd got caught just standing there doing nothing."

D'Amato said Patterson told him in the dressing room after the fight that he felt out Liston to see what he could do and discovered that he wasn't as strong as he anticipated "and then I got caught with those left hooks."

"Liston is a very good fighter, as good as anybody in an era," said D'Amato, "but so is Patterson, and all he needs to do is to concentrate on his job this time."

Trenton Supports Barry Goldwater

TRENTON, Mo. (AP)—An informal poll at a meeting sponsored by the Grundy Republican Committee Tuesday night showed more support for Sen. Barry Goldwater than any of the other potential candidates for the party's presidential nomination next year.

Twenty-nine hands were raised; and William Robbins, county chairman, reported 14 were for the Arizona senator, two for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, two for Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and 11 undecided.

About 40 attended the meeting. Principal speakers were state Sen. James P. Kelly of Trenton, until recently the party's state chairman, and Hugo William Roeling of St. Charles, a candidate for Congress from Missouri's 9th District.
